A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boesche's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25c; large size 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

THE CRUISER LENA.

Vessel is Now at the United States Naval Station, Mare Island.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Acting Secretary of State Adee Thursday gave out the following statement in regard to the Russian ship Lena, now at San Francisco, that arrived recently to make much-needed repairs, and to which the Japanese consul of that city made strenuous objection to her remaining over 24 hours:

"The president Thursday issued an order through the acting secretary of state, directing that the Russian armed transport ship Lena, now at San Francisco, be taken in custody by the naval authorities of the United States and disarmed. The main features of the conditions prescribed are that the Lena be taken to the Mare Island navy yard, and there be disarmed by removal of small guns, breach block of large and small guns, ammunition or ordnance stores and such other dismantlement as may be prescribed by the commandant of the navy yard, and that the captain give a written guarantee that the Lena shall not leave San Francisco until peace shall have been concluded; that the officers and crew shall be paroled, but not to leave San Francisco until some understanding as to their disposal may be reached between the United States government and both the belligerents; that after disarmament the vessel may be removed to a private dock for such reasonable repairs as will make her seaworthy and preserve her in good condition during her detention; that she may be repaired at the navy department if the Russian commander should so elect; that while at a private dock the commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island shall have custody of the ship, and the repairs shall be overseen by an engineer officer, to be detailed by the commandant, and that, when so repaired, if peace shall not then have been concluded, the vessel shall be taken back to the Mare Island navy yard, and be held in custody until the end of the war.

San Francisco, Sept. 17.—The Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena is now at the government naval station at Mare Island, having departed from San Francisco bay Friday afternoon under the escort of the cruiser Marblehead. The Lena is now under the local jurisdiction of Rr. Adm. McCalla, of the navy yard, the responsibility of her safekeeping, having been transferred from Rr. Adm. Goodrich. The entire crew of the Lena is aboard the Russian vessel, and will doubtless be detained at Mare Island, pending an official decision as to their disposition. The work of dismantling the Lena will be commenced at an early date, and workmen have been engaged to place her in a seaworthy condition.

The board of inspection appointed by Rr. Adm. Goodrich has completed its inspection of the Lena's boilers and machinery. As their report has not yet been officially considered at Washington, the findings of the engineering experts have not been made public here.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Minister Takahira called upon Acting Secretary of State Adee Friday to make inquiry as to the terms of the parole to be granted to the Russian crew of the Lena, in conformity with the president's decision. He was informed that the details of the parole would be arranged at San Francisco by Adms. Goodrich and McCalla, but, generally, that it was proposed to allow the men within the limits of the city of San Francisco.

FEUDISTS ARRESTED.

Eight Men Are Guarded by Three Companies of Florida Militia.

Valdosta, Ga., Sept. 17.—Baxter, Fla., is policed by three companies of Florida militia, following the killing of four men, which resulted from the feud between the Altmans and Duncans. Shortly before dark Sheriff Herndon and his posse brought in eight prisoners, alleged to be implicated in the killing of Jackson Duncan, Rufus Thrift and the Negro.

These men are stretched out on the floor of a shanty resting under the guards of the Live Oak Suwannee rifles of Florida, the Wilson battery of artillery and the sheriff's posse. There are 11 others of the gang. Men who were sent to see them have just returned and report that they have agreed to surrender themselves.

The feud between the Altmans and Duncans is of long standing.

CONTRABAND OF WAR.

Russia Defines Her Position in the Matter.

In Principle it Meets the Views of America and Great Britain Regarding Foodstuffs, Coal and Other Fuel.

London, Sept. 17.—The foreign office has received a dispatch from Ambassador Hardinge, at St. Petersburg, giving Russia's reply to the representations on the subject of contraband of war. Foreign Secretary Lansdowne and Premier Balfour are both absent, but Charles Hardinge's dispatch was forwarded to them, and, pending their action, nothing is available at the foreign office beyond a general expression of opinion that the reply goes a long way toward settling up the question as to what in the future may be properly regarded as contraband. According to the British view there are still open certain questions of principle, but it is believed that these will be arranged in the course of further negotiations.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17.—Russia, in Count Lamsdorff's response to Ambassador Hardinge, in principle, meets the views of the American and British governments regarding foodstuffs and coal and other fuel as being conditional contraband of war, distinctly placing them in the category of articles susceptible of uses both in war and peace, and, as such, only confiscable when consigned to blockaded ports or destined for the military or naval forces of the army. Shipments in the ordinary course of trade by private persons or firms, even to an enemy's port, may be considered prima facie not contraband; but upon this point distinct reservation is made. The simple fact of consignment by private persons does not preclude the possibility that the articles are not ultimately destined for belligerent forces, and Russia insists that it is not necessarily regarded as conclusive evidence of the innocent character of the goods.

In other words, irregular ships' papers or other suspicious circumstances, might vitiate the assumption of innocent character; but where such suspicion is raised the burden of proof to warrant legal seizure is to rest upon the captor.

Count Lamsdorff's reply was not presented in written form, but was communicated verbally to Ambassador Hardinge.

It will not involve public amendment of Russian contraband and prize regulations, but in effect it becomes an official interpretation of the original regulation made by the commission, composed of representatives of the ministries of foreign affairs, marine, war and justice, which considered the subject in connection with the objections raised by the United States and Great Britain, and as such will hereafter govern naval commanders and prize courts, which thus far in the war have classed all articles enumerated in article 6, of the Russian regulations as absolute contraband.

Count Lamsdorff's victory in the controversy while not absolutely complete, is perhaps noteworthy as having been achieved against powerful adverse influences. At one time it seemed doubtful whether any concessions could be obtained, but Thursday the emperor sanctioned the decision which Count Lamsdorff communicated to Ambassador Hardinge Friday.

MILITIA IN CIVIL COURT.

The Scene the First Witnessed Since the "Reconstruction Period."

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 17.—Guarded by squads of militia, Thomas M. Riggins and Ben Hill, alleged lynchers, were marched into the circuit court Friday and given a preliminary hearing. The scene was such as has not been witnessed here since the "reconstruction period," as such a thing as soldiers in a civil court room has not been seen since the days immediately following the civil war.

A special jury has been ordered for each occasion. Attorney Lawrence Cooper, for Mr. Riggins, created somewhat of a sensation when, in addressing the court, he questioned the constitutionality of the act allowing soldiers in a civil court room. He made an impassioned speech against the presence of the militia.

Solicitor Pettus replied to Mr. Cooper with the statement that the militia were not aliens, but natives of Alabama, and sent there by their governor to maintain the laws of the state.
